major communities, & whether anyone belonging to the community has recommended has consented to accept nomination in the elections. As regards parliamentary elections it is stated that there is no intention of repeating the experiment available in

That communal arrangements for conducting the elections in this case to replace the present 12 members who could have continued to hold their seats, instead of the eleven to be elected

13 I am unable to see why a Muslim candidate should be nominated when the Council consists of an Elected member - we do not made it impossible for Govt to make a selection as he has furnished with 3 names if it is considered necessary to nominate a candidate from some unrepresented Community, a further list will have to be called for. It is not understandable how in a town like Kuala Lumpur, the DC has found it impossible to suggest some other names of other Communities
